CITY INSTITUTIONS AS THEY APPEAR.

Lecture by Walter L. Sheldon Before the St. Louis Ethical Culture Society.

RESULT OF RECENT VISITS.

While Improvements Have Been Made at Some, Others Are in Bad Condition-Few Suggestions Made.

"Our City Institutions" was the subject of a lecture delivered yesterday before the St. Louis Ethical Culture Society by Walter L. Sheldon. He said, in part:

"I believe it is the duty of every clergyman to be acquainted with the institutions of the city where he is located. And with this thought in view I went this last week on a series of excursions to see how the wards of our city are cared for. We expended the last fiscal year in all in St. Louis the total sum of $5,701,557.67. Of this amount upward of $850,000 is disbursed for these institutions. It is fitting that we should all know how this money is laid

"I went first to the Female Hospital. There I found 212 patients being cared for on that day, in the charge of eight doctors. on that day, in the charge of eight occtors.

What was my delight to see that within the last four years they had added another wing, at the cost of $10,000, and equipped it as an up-to-date maternity hospital. The chief disappointing feature about this institution was the fact that the good and bad, the worthy and the unworthy patients must be thrown in promiscuously together.

Poorhouse and Insane Asylum. "Further, I went to the Poorhouse. But to my astonishment it proved that the great plie of brick buildings before me which had been set apart for that purpose which had been set apart for that purpose and erected with that end in view had been appropriated, not for the poor, but for the chronic insane; where they were housing on that day 869 persons of this kind. Behind those buildings I saw the long line of a frame structure, like a barracks, which was the shed for the dormitory of the male paupers. Some 502 men of this kind were in that institution. Happily, there is a separate building for the women of the poor, where there were 267 housed. It cost the last year 148,145 to carry on the work, at a per capita expense of $94.96. Surely it would be worth the city's while to add another five or ten thousand, raise that per capita expense to $100, and have adequate medical attention there.

"I passed on then to the asylum for the insane. I had not been through it for ten years or more, and I found the atmosphere of it had been completely transformed with a multitude of improvements. It costs the city upward of £100.000 a year to carry on that institution. There were that day 670 inmates, with ninety employes, including thirty-nine nurses. These figures would be impressive if it were not for the fact that I knew that this institution when originally built had been planned for exactly 340 inmates.

Temporary City Hospital. and erected with that end in view had been "Further, and I came, near the end of the day, to an old brick rockery at Seventeenth and Pine streets bearing the name Temporary City Hospital." Of all institutions I ever visited for the care of the sick this was the worst, and I have seen many of them. It was dimly lighted in the corridors and in the wards. The ceilings of many of the wards are so low that I could have reached them probably by holding up a walking stick. In some of those wards must be placed sixty or seventy patients, where there are only thirty or forty beds. There were on that day 462 patients in charge of twenty-five doctors and twenty-five nurses.

"Then I visited the House of Refuge for young boys and girls. There I had a happy surroles not having been at the institution Temporary City Hospital.

young boys and girls. There I had a happy surprise, not having been at the institution for nearly four years. Without any extra appropriations for new buildings, they had succeeded somehow in putting on a new story to one of the other buildings. Happily, now they are able to divide the boys sent by the police courts for petty criminal offenses from the boys sent there as orthers.

"It was a contrast from this when I went down to the proximity of the river and stood on the heights where is located the Workhouse. I found that 256 individuals, men and women, were confined there, about one-half of them as State prisoners, and the other half working out fines, in charge of thirty-seven guards. Sometimes they have had over 500 prisoners in that one place.

"Returning to the city I stopped for a moment at the morgue and talked for a while with the manager there. Then I turned to the living morgue, the worst and the most behind the times of all our institutions, our city jail. There were that day 222 inmates housed in 150 cells, with two or three cots to a cell. And of all that number I believe 229 were there as yet not cohvicted of crimes, but waiting their trial.

Sammary of the Situation.

"Looking back over what I had seen at "Looking back over what I had seen at these institutions, I was seriously impressed with the honest efforts which the management had made in almost every case to do the utmost with the resources at their command. It was cheering and encouraging to see the number of improvements which had been put through. But it is plain now that in most of these institutions the management are reaching the limits of what human ingenuity can accomplish with the money resources at command. Unless there is further assistance on this side, improveis further assistance on this side, improve

MACHINISTS MAKE DEMANDS.

Want Higher Wages and Shorter Hours at Youngstown, O.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 18 .- Union machinists of this city have demanded an increase of 10 per cent in wages and a nine and oneof w per cent in wages and a nine and one-half-hour work day, instead of ten, as at present, beginning to-morrow.

Amicable agreement with the employers is expected, as all the machine shops are crowded with orders for steel plant and rolling-mill machinery.

Members of the Mount Cabanne Christian morning indorsed the proposition of the Board of Dencons and Elders to issue a call to the Reverend Frank G. Tyrrell to succeed the Reverend D. R. Dungan as pastor of the church

A meeting of the board will be held tonight, and a committee appointed to formally notify the Reverend Mr. Tyrrell of The Reverend Frank G. Tyrrell was for merly pastor of the Central Christian Church, where he occupied the pulpit for nine years. A year ago he resigned be cause some of the members of the congregation opposed his plans for enlarging the church. Since that time he has been lec-turing and has lived in Chicago. He was educated for the law, but entered the ministry and came to St. Louis when he was 22 years old. It is understood that he will accept the call of the Mount Cabanne Church. He occupied the pulpit of the Mount Cabanne Church a week ago yesterday, and the attendance was so large that extra chairs had to be provided. He is at present out of the city. The Reverend Mr. Dungan, former pastor of the church, resigned to go to Canton, Mo., to resume his educational work.

JESSIE MORRISON'S TRIAL.

Case Will Come Up for Hearing at Eldorado To-Morrow.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Wichita, Kas., Nov. 18.—Unless Jessie Morrison's attorneys ask for a continuance of her case the trial will begin in the District Court at Eldorado Tuesday. She seemed to be in a cheerful mood. She is spending most of her time in reading the Bible.

Although the dying statement of Mrs. Olin Castle has not been made public, it will be admitted as evidence in the coming trial. Olin Castle says that he had warned his wife to always keep her doors locked when alone, for fear her former sweetheart would come to the house and raise a disturbance when she was alone. Miss Morrison has stood the confinement in jail for the last four months reasonably well. The case will last about two weeks.

Fortunately, no one was injured.

Mr. Cohnheim can assign no cause for the explosion. He explained that he had taken several flash-light pictures in the room before the accident occurred, and that he was getting a focus for an additional picture, when there was a loud report, followed immediately by the crash of falling glass. The camera was shattered and the room was in complete darkness.

Washington, Nov. 18 .- "Western Texas is vary English Evangelical Lutheran Church, rapidly increasing in population," said B. | corner Euclid and Theodosia avenues, was laid with impressive ceremonies yesterday afternoon, and the new building is expected to be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the new year. Addresses were delivered in both English and Germany. Notwithstanding the threatening weather, the services were well at-

After the opening service, Professor F. Bente of Concordia Seminary delivered the English address, taking for his subject the vords of Christ, "Whosover confesseth me before man, him will I confess before my Father." He dwelt at some length on the necessity of practicing Christianity in veryday life, and of living as well as professing religion. He spoke about the work of Mount Calvary Church and its parochial and Sabbath schools, in which the children receive the benefit of religious training and influence while pursuing their studies. The speaker also reviewed the history of the church and spoke of its growth and prospects. Professor Bente was followed by the Reverend A. R. Kretzschmar of the Emmons German Evangelical Lutheran Church, or South Jefferson avenue, who delivered a short address in German. the close of the Reverend Mr. Kretzschmar's address, the congregation repaired to the new church, where the formal ceremony of laying the corner stone was conducted by the Reverend E. T. Coyner, pastor of the church. A number of church papers, coins, news-papers and a history of the church were deposited in the corner stone, and the cer-emony closed with a benediction by the Reverend Mr. Coyner. The Mount Calvary English Evangelical Lutheran Church was organized December 15, 1897, by the Reverend Mr. Coyner. At first the services were held in a storeroom on Easton avenue. About two and a half years ago the present property was pur-chased, and since that time services have been held in the pastor's residence, which adjoins the site of the new church. In connection with the church and Sun-day school is conducted a parochial school day school is conducted a parochial school which has forty-five pupils enrolled. About 150 children attend the Sunday school, There is also a branch, or mission, school, at Kicker's Hall, corner of Newstead avenue and North Market street.

The new church will have a partition to divide the church proper from the school-room, but when necessary this partition can be folded so as to make the school-room a part of the auditorium of the church.

OUR SHIPPING THRIVING.

Last Fiscal Year the Most Prosperous For Long Period.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The report of Commissioner of Navigation Chamberlain, made public to-day, says the last fiscal year has been the most prosperous period known to American shipping for some years. Returns for the current fiscal year promise an even more satisfactory record.

For the first time since the Civil War the documented tonnage of the United States exceeds 5,000,000 gross tons. On June 30, 1866. American decumented tonnage companied tonnage. 1800, American documented tonnage com-prised 23,333 vessels of 5,164,839 gross tons, an increase of 300,000 tons over the previous year. Our maximum tonnage was 5,539,813 tons in 1851. Our shipping, the report adds, in 1851, was larger than Great Britain's and tons in 1851. Our shipping, the report adds, in 1851, was larger than Great Britain's and nearly equaled the British Empire's.

British shipping now amounts to 14,251,000 gross tons. American vessels are almost wholly confined to the coasting trade, which employed last year 4,328,145 tons, or more than the total tonnage of Germany and France. Our tonnage in the foreign trade was only $16,795 tons, and carried last year only 9 per cent of our exports and imports. A century ago American shipping registered for foreign trade was 669,921 tons, while this tonnage now in thirteen original States amounts to 482,907 tons.

Our tonnage is distributed: Between the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, 2,727,892 gross tons; Great Lakes, 1,655,537 tons; Pacific Coast, including Hawaii, 612,904 tons; Mississippi and tributary rivers, 228,466 tons. Our steam vessels amount to 2,557,797 tons; documented canal boats and barges to 622,000 tons, and the remainder, 1,884,842 tons are sail vessels. The increase in our shipping during the decade was 740,342 tons, of which 502,523 tons stand to the credit of the Great Lakes. The increase in ten years on the Pacific has been 184,512 tons, due mainly to Alaskan and Hawaiian trade, and on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts only 89,297 tons, while the tonnage on the Mississippi and tributaries has decreased 25,000 tons.

BERTH SELECTED FOR SARGENT

Slated for Director of Bureau of Engraving and Printing. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Frank P. Sargent, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, is slated for one of the few remunerative Federal offices which remain to be dispensed by the President. He may be appointed director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, a position which pays $4,500 a year, or will be given something equally desirable. Within a few days the matter will be determined finally and an official announcement made.

When the Industrial Commission was created the President appointed Mr. Sargent a member of it, but the chief was impelled to decline it, the brotherhood insisting that he remain as its chief, and as an inducement increased his salary to $5,000 a year.

COTTON PICKERS ARE IDLE.

Demand Ended on the Southern Texas Coast.

Texas Coast.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 18.—Negroes who came from Southern Texas coast storm districts early in the cotton season because of the high prices paid for picking are returning to their former homes, as the demand for extra pickers is ended. Several hundred departed from the section immediately south of Dallas yesterday and to-day.

Navarro and Ellis counties report about 5,000 of the newcomers as being out of work and likely to need aid during the coming winter.
